By Arthur R. Bracke, Norel M. Lemaire

Trafford Publishing, Canada, 2006. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 223 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .This is the true story of one young man s encouraging struggle against drugs and crime. Written for Robert J. Bracke by his adoptive father, Arthur R. Bracke. This is the true story of Robert s first twenty-one years. Robert, while of above-average intelligence, was unable to read or write due to the devastating effects of his learning disabilities, severe dyslexia and dysgraphia, conditions that were not properly diagnosed until he was placed with Arthur R. Bracke at the age of twelve. Running Against the Wind is the true story of Robert Bracke. It starts out with his troubled times with the use of drugs and drug dealing. During the book, he recalls the abandonment from his mother, his father s harsh remarriage, drug usage and his miserable young life, growing up in numerous foster homes. This book isn t kind to the reader. It is bold, demanding and harsh with the reality of what life is like for too many people in today s society when they are pushed out into the world and demanded to grow...
